

μProc

The diagram illustrates a microprocessor (μProc) at the top, connected by a dashed line to a memory stack structure below. The stack structure consists of a row of eight rectangular blocks. The first five blocks are light blue and labeled 'Header', 'IP', 'Stack', 'Env', and 'VStack' from left to right. The remaining three blocks are light gray and unlabeled. The labels are oriented vertically within their respective blocks.

Header

IP

Stack

Env

VStack